VICE PRESIDENT

Allen W. Dulles, Esq.
Director
Central Intelligence Agency
Washington 25, D. C.

Dear Allen:

You and your great brother talk the same language and a right good language it is too for us fellows who are acquainted with some of the facts that you have mentioned.

I've got in front of me today's New York Times with your complete speech on the military-economic challange of the Soviet Union. This is really splendid. It is more than a speech. There is enough material here to enable an intelligent person to understand the issues and therefore to know what we ought to do about some of them.

If your brother decides to retire from the rigors of being Secretary of State I'd put in my vote for you.

With very best regards.

Sincerely,

Frank L. Howley

P. S. General Clay and I have been invited with a number of others to go to celebrate something about the airlift in Berlin on May the 12th. I think it might be interesting.
